THE FOREST OF THOUGHTS

To mentally detach oneself from the monstrosities of Death Row/prison surrounded and encased by concrete walls, steel bars, razor wire and acidic water, it is necessary for one to free oneself of common-conventional delusions, opinions and conclusions, while accepting readily the knowledge, truth and growth into the reality of experiencing and enjoying an existence beyond the monstrosities of this locality and time. Specific determined, pursuits and methods will yield freshly unique and different life experience choices, my world and prospective course of time can open up . . . as can yours.

The expression of the obscured growth indications, darkened shades of rampant uncultivated lofty earth mass of flowers of a former time. A reservoir of secluded range glens that are entwined into time-worn organic developmental growth, overflowing with forgotten flowers and sweet grass meadows that lure and fascinate the senses to new revelations.

Such particular regions/habitats are in a world of the hide-and-seek era because they introduce into our hearts and dreams of former times. The pure elucidating flash of reality, honesty and anticipation in life. So are the indicated expressions on concealed forest paths and the constructive and emphatic cogitations that tend to come into existence in the chilly breeze of midnight thoughts.
